12,000 FIND THE WPGC PICNIC

Our Stage Show attractions featured THE CHARTBUSTERS, BOBBY HOWARD AND THE SWEET, GARY SCOTT AND THE CLASSICS. Above, THE ENGLISH SETTERS keep the crowds spellbound. The Razz, The Juvies, The Reachers and New Vagabonds all added to the WPGC Hide-The-Picnic fun.

Good Guys prizes in all sizes were passed out to the crowd throughout the day. Jack Alox, Harry Moore, Bob Peyton, Marvellous Mary Brooks and Tiger Bob Raleigh and, above, Cousin Duffy, all took turns at the microphone. And — look at the size of the crowd.

Not even the threat of Hurricane Doria . . . or the dawning of an overcast and dreary Sunday morning . . . could dampen the enthusiasm of our WPGC Picnicers Sunday, September 17. At Clinton Regional Park, officials estimated some 12,000 picnicers found the picnic the GOOD GUYS had hidden. Starting at Noon and continuing till the curl of dark shadows finally called a halt to the festivities, the huge crowd was entertained with everything from a big softball game — which the GOOD GUYS won 7-5 . . . to a spectacular stage show.

Picnic Day was also highlighted by displays of the athletic prowess of the WPGC GOOD GUYS. While they won their softball game, 7-5, on the football field The Good Guys didn't fare so well. Here, Cousin Duffy tosses another long interception during the tough football action.

IT'S WHAT'S HAPPENING

Rose colored album covers, a great picture of the group and a knocked out two sided single smash — those are the latest happenings for THE FALLEN ANGELS. The album, which will be released both here and in England, should be in your favorite shop this week. The ENGLISH SETTERS have added ROCKY, formerly of the Angels and The Chocolate Snowflakes, to their permanent line-up. BOBBY HOWARD and THE SWEET finally taking off big with their new record. Signed to a management contract by Otis Redding, the group plays a one week engagement at New York's Appollo Theatre.
